

Kiss Goodbye

I blended two styles of guitar in this song. 1) Harder attack strumming and 2) softer finger-picking. The contrast plays out nicely going from the upbeat aggressive verses to the laid back gently floating choruses. I like how the two work together in delivering the “kiss goodbye” message.

Always love recording live, looking for that cut where everybody is in sync and playing in the pocket. This is a sweet live guitar, bass and percussion track. Would love to do another version of this song with more vocal support in the “goodbye” outro.

D D/Gb - G A (repeats)

Let butterflies fly in his eyes

Let running water run through her hands

Let everybody kiss their fears goodbye
Let little flowers appear right here
Inside her eyes a world of color
Let everybody kiss their tears goodbye

Kiss, kiss, kiss
Kiss, kiss, kiss
Let everybody kiss their fears goodbye

He wants a woman who can hang
Won't play games be his flame
Who can handle him
He wants a girl who can swirl
Who will twirl and unfurl
Right in front of him

Baby, why won't you listen to me
Are you really that crazy?
You're gonna' hold on to your life till you lose it
Like that's really gonna' save you

Ch
Let butterflies fly in his eyes
Let running water run through her hands
Let everybody kiss their fears goodbye
Let little flowers appear right here
Inside her eyes a world of color
Let everybody kiss their tears goodbye

Let everybody kiss who break up
Let everybody kiss who make up
Let everybody kiss their tears goodbye

Kiss, kiss, kiss
Kiss, kiss, kiss
Let everybody kiss their tears...
Goodbye, goodbye (w/harmonies)
Goodbye, goodbye

Kiss, kiss, kiss

Kiss, kiss, kiss

Goodbye, goodbye
Goodbye, goodbye
